HEIR TO $500,000 DROWNS HIMSELF AFTER AUTO RIDE

Lois E. Larocque Plunges from Deserted Pier at Port Jefferson.

HAD SEVERE HEADACHE.

Chauffeur Left Him on Dock and Later Found Body in Water.

Lois Larocque, a son of the late Joseph Larocque and a brother of Joseph Larocque of the law firm of Choate, Larocque & Mitchell of No. 40 Wall street, jumped into Long Island Sound from the end of Darling's pier at Port Jefferson, L. I., early to-day and was drowned. Coroner Gibson of Huntington at the conclusion of an inquest this afternoon issued a death certificate which stamped the case as a suicide.

The evidence showed that Mr. Larocque after a long ride in an automobile left the car at Port Jefferson, walked to the extreme end of the pier, discarded his dust coat and his other coat, folded them neatly, piled them on a stringpiece, placed his hat on the pile and leaped overboard. This was between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning, Mr. Larocque, according to evidence gathered by the coroner, had been complaining all night of splitting pains in his head.

Lois Larocque was about forty years old. He had no business or profession and spent much of his time abroad. Joseph Larocque, a noted lawyer and a partner of William Gardner Choate, died in June, 1908, leaving a fortune of $500,000, of which Lois E. Larocque was bequeathed in trust about $200,000. The Morton Trust Co. was made trustee of this sum and Lois Larocque drew the income, which was large, as the principal was invested in securities paying liberal dividends.

Lois Larocque went abroad shortly after the death of his father and did not return to New York until June 3, when he went to live at the Southampton Club, at Southampton, L. I. His sister, Mrs. Tinker, was in a hospital there. He was a cross-country rider, a sportsman and an athlete. A bachelor, he lived in clubs and hotels. In New York he was a member of the Metropolitan, the Brook, the Racquet and the Turf and Field clubs.

It was the custom of Mr. Larocque to visit the home of his brother at Bernardsville, N. J., of his brother-in-law, Henry C. Tinker, former President of the Liberty National Bank, at Setauket, L. I., and of his friend George Vinnet, a brother of Harry Vinnet, Mayor Gaynor's son-in-law, at Setauket. George Vinnet lives on a magnificent country estate in Setauket with his sister, who

ROBBED MONKEY BREAKS "GYP THE BLOOD'S" ARM

Simian Pickpocket Caught Trying to Steal From Mate, Suffers Quick Vengeance in Zoo.

"Gyp the Blood," a monkey, which with "Lucky Louie" occupies a large cage in the monkey house at Central Park, to-day got a broken arm as the result of his thieving tendencies. "Gyp" is considered to be the cleverest simian pickpocket in existence, not to mention captivity—having abstracted everything from pockets to handkerchiefs from visitors, decided this afternoon that a small mirror in the cage of "Mike," a big baboon, would fittingly ornament his inclosure.

"Gyp" swung to the cage adjoining "Mike's" and reached his long right arm in for the coveted piece of glass. "Mike" saw the movement and grasped the injured monkey's arm was set in motion, causing an agonizing pain.

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—The Giants have forgotten their disappointment of yesterday when Marquand lost out on his winning record, and realize that this is another day and are determined to take the series by two games to one. Matty went in to pitch, but McDrew had Tarsau to fall back on in case Matty weakened. Clarke chose McQuillan to bring home the bacon. Arthur Wilson was behind the bat for New York, and Gibson for Pittsburgh.

FIRST INNING.—Burns filed out to Miller. Shaffer singled. Fletcher singled to right. Hernag fanned and Shaffer was doubled at third. Gibson to Byrne. No Run. One Left.
SECOND INNING.—Merkle struck out. Murray out. Viox to Miller. Snodgrass singled to center and was out stealing. Gibson to Viox. No Run.
THIRD INNING.—Wagner popped out to Merkle. Miller lined to Snodgrass. O. Wilson hit to left.

POLO GROUNDS, Aug. 6.—Less than 2,000 people came out to see the third game between the Highlanders and the Tigers. The beating of yesterday apparently has taken the heart out of the faithful.

Russell Ford reported in shape again and was assigned to the job of pitching. Daus, one of the Tigers' best bats, opposed him. Chance stuck to his old lineup and declined to give us a look at the new men in action for awhile.

FIRST INNING.—Bush got a base on balls. Bauman, after two futile attempts to bunt, struck out. Cree backed up against the fence in left field and caught Crawford's long fly. Bush was out stealing. Sweeney to Peckinpaugh. No Run.

WHITMAN NOW WAVERING; MAY BREAK FROM FUSION

Demand of Republican Leaders That He Run for Mayor Is Having Effect.

District Attorney Whitman has listened to the arguments of regular Republican leaders and is on the verge of breaking away from the Fusion alliance and becoming a candidate for Mayor on a Republican ticket. A meeting of the executive committee of the party will be held Thursday or Friday night, at which the situation will be discussed and the plan of action determined.

The District Attorney declined again to-day to announce whether he would reject or accept the proffered nomination for District Attorney on the Fusion ticket. He pleaded that important public business at his office would absorb his entire time and that he would not discuss politics until this evening.

The Fusion combination is in imminent danger of disruption. Its situation is being compared to that of the Balkan Allies, who fell to fighting among themselves and let the Tammany Turks recapture much that had been won.

Herbert Parsons, former Chairman of the Republican County Committee and still its power behind the throne, is the principal adviser of Mr. Whitman to break away from Fusion and stand by the regular Republican organization.

PROBERS TRAIL DEALS DOWN IN WALL STREET WITH SULZER'S FUNDS

Brokers Are Called Before the Frawley Investigators and Asked About Governor's Investments, but Refuse to Testify.

COURTS WILL BE ASKED TO ORDER ANSWERS

Testimony of Bank Officials Shows That Checks for Several Thousand Dollars Were Not Reported

Though blocked by the refusal of brokers to answer questions, it was the clearly defined purpose of Eugene Lamb Richards, counsel to the Frawley legislative investigating committee, which met to-day in the Council Chamber at the City Hall, to show that the Governor not only put large sums of money not mentioned in his legal campaign accounting to his personal credit in bank, but that he made considerable investments under a blind account with the Stock Exchange firms of Fuller & Gray and presumably with Harris & Fuller.

RESERVES DECISION ON TAXI INJUNCTIONS

Justice Seabury After Hearing Arguments Says He Must Take Time to Study Briefs.

High taxicab rates and private hack stands will remain in New York until Justice Samuel Seabury can complete his examination of the voluminous briefs filed with him to-day at the conclusion of a five-and-a-half-hour argument over the temporary injunction writs asked to prevent the enforcement of the recently enacted taxicab law for which The Evening World made such a prolonged fight.

Justice Seabury declared he regarded the matter as of grave importance, and that he could not remove the temporary writs of injunction until he was prepared to give his written decision. The writs, therefore, remain in force until he has made a thorough study of the papers and reached his decision.
